REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republicans of Mason county are called to meet in Mass Convention at the Courthouse in Maysville on Saturday, August 11th, 1906, at 2 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of selecting Delegates to the Congressional Convention to be held at Ashland on August 15th, 1906.

W. D. COCHRAN,
Chairman Executive Committee Mason County.

HAVING been denied the use of Douglas Park for holding the State Fair, Louisville might find a place over in Indiana.

REVISED figures indicate that the immigration to this country during the fiscal year ending June 30th last was 73,574 greater than it was during the fiscal year 1905. The immigration during the year last passed aggregated 1,100,073, against 1,026,499 for the previous year. It was notable that the class of immigrants was not so high as in many previous years; and it's growing worse each year, thanks to the cowardly politicians in Congress.

THE Evening Bulletin and THE PUBLIC LEDGER, the only two newspapers in Maysville, Ky., have a common rate card signed by both which is submitted to advertisers when they ask for rates. This succeeded a period of somewhat strenuous competition for business and is said to work admirably. One of the publishers informed a representative of The American Press that he carried more advertising the year following this agreement than ever before, although the rates were nearly doubled. It is doubtless a good thing for newspapers to refrain from throat-cutting, but how about an agreement of this kind if the anti-Trust Law were applied to it?—American Press.

Oh, that's oilright! The anti-Trust Law applies only when a thing is done "in restraint of trade," but, as shown above, this agreement increased the volume of business rather than "restrained" it.

It does look like the Fates were against Louisville and her State Fair. Last week there were 86 deaths and only 83 births in that city.

THAT enterprising Lexington fourteen-year-old who loaded up his pants pocket with blasting powder, parlor matches and cigarettes, will be all right again when he gets a new abdomen, an artificial arm—and some clothes.

TWO FIRST-CLASS young men of good families, occupying responsible positions in the Auditor's Office of the L. and N. Railroad, out on a business trip, filled up with Lexington booze, and while on a trolley car between Lexington and Paris used foul and disgusting language in the presence of a number of passengers, including one of the most refined ladies of Paris, and fell into the hands of the officials of Bourbon, who assessed a fine of $100 each and sent them to the rookpile for thirty days. In addition to that they received telegraphic discharges from their positions. The young men were gentlemen when sober, and we know the father of one of them to be one of the most highly respected citizens of Louisville, but they were crazed with liquor.—Carlisle Mercury.

Are you sure this wasn't a dark, deep-laid scheme on the part of Louisville, just to show the sort of mean whisky Lexington will put up for visitors to her Bluegrass Fair?

LAMENTABLE IGNORANCE.

It was visiting day at the kindergarten, and the young teacher was proud of her little pupils as they went through their drills and exercises, and beamed with pleasure at the appreciation shown by the visitors, who applauded generously, according to The Buffalo Evening News. Then came the lesson, and the teacher announced the subject.

"Children," she said, "today we are going to learn about the cat, and I want you to tell me what you know about it. Tommy, how many legs has a cat?"

"Four," replied Tommy, proudly conscious of rectitude. "Yes, and Daisy, what else has the cat?"

"Claws an' tail," murmured Daisy shyly.

Various other portions of feline anatomy were ascertained, and finally the instructor turned to one of the latest acquisitions of the kindergarten and said sweetly:

"Now, Mary, can you tell me whether the cat has fur or feathers?"

With scorn and contempt, mingled with a vast surprise, Mary said:

"Gee, teacher, ain't you never seen a cat?"

And the lesson came to an abrupt end.

Beautiful Beechwood.

For this week at Beechwood, the Management believe that they have the best show that has been offered this season.

The fine program is headed by the vaudeville featured act, "The Crotty Trio," with Joe, the well known step dancer, Allie, phenomenal baritone, and Jeannette, the best wooden shoe dancer in vaudeville. Patrons will find this act way out of the usual run. Edward Poulter, "Happy Hooligan," will have an up-to-date monologue; the new illustrated song will be the great coon song, "You Told Me That I Would Never Have to Work No More," and the kinema pictures for the first of the week will be "The Wig Chase" and "The Subpeona Server," showing the many difficulties surmounted by serving a subpoena upon a leading New Yorker to appear in Court. The Casino should be crowded all this week with this show.

Dr. Baker this afternoon by special request repeated a Bible reading given by him here two years ago on "What Is It?" being the question of sanctification on Bible Holiness. He handled his subject in such a clear and convincing manner that we all went away much enlightened on this great question. Tomorrow he will give his splendid reading on "Anointing for Service." He has received many commendations on this reading by Bishops and other learned men of the Church.

Dr. Oliver preached another strong sermon tonight to an immense crowd. Mr. Boyd K. Muse sang a very effective solo at this service. The evening congregations continue to increase. River News

The gage marks 8.8 and falling.

The towboat George Matheson is having her boilers repaired at Cincinnati.

The Sprague will bring an immense tow of empties up from New Orleans to be taken to Pittsburgh. Rivermen predict a good rise in the Ohio by the end of the month.

The towboat H. M. Hoxie, which sank during a boiler explosion near Portland, O., a few months ago, has been raised. The Hoxie will be rebuilt, as she is not as badly damaged as was thought.

The landings in the Pittsburgh harbors are filled with loaded craft. River coal operators are reluctant to give an estimate of the amount of stock on hand, but there is probably 15,000,000 bushels in the boats and barges.

A new device for the registration of the stage of water in the rivers has been invented and recommended for use by many of the members of the Engineers' Corps of the navigable streams of the country. The first of the devices is to be installed at Pittsburgh.

On account of the low Union bridge at Pittsburgh, the hull of the steamer S. S. Brown, which was launched several days ago by the American Bridge Company, Ambridge, Pa., and towed to the James Rees Sons' Company's works, where it will be finished, the bulkheads of the boat had to be filled with water to the depth of four feet. This process permitted the boat to get under the bridge.

WE CLOTHE MAN OR BOY!

We clothe him, too, in a way that makes him pleasant to look upon—a credit to his family and a joy to his friends.

For our service we ask what is fair, and we return in the same measure, heaping it up a little where we can.

CONCERNING THE CLOCK

New York Herald.

Did you ever take time to consider the clock? You should have done so, if you have not, seeing the clock gives you the time whenever you ask it.

(No, this is no joke. It is a plain statement of facts.)

The clock is so sensitive that it constantly keeps its hands before its face. This is due to the fact that through no fault of its own it has been doing time for many years in the most public manner. It may be that as the face of the clock has no eyes, nor mouth, nor nose, nor chin, nor cheeks, nor any of the usual facial appurtenances, it keeps its hands over it to hide these defects. But this can scarcely be, we fancy, because its hands have no fingers nor thumbs, nor has it any arms, and any attempt to conceal one defect would only expose another.

Most clocks have only two hands, but many have three, and it is somewhat remarkable, anatomically as well as numerically, that the third hand is the second hand. It may also be remarked that the minute hand is not the minute hand, for it is longer than the hour hand.

There are no clocks in heaven, because there is no time there. Neither is there any night, and an eight-day clock wouldn't know when to stop.

The clock differs from all other human affairs in that while their operations end when they are wound up, the clock's do not begin until they are wound up.

do I take Cardui?" writes Mrs. Jelemma Mullins of Odessa, W. Va. "Because, after suffering for several years with female trouble, and trying different doctors and medicines without obtaining relief, I at last found, in Wine of Cardui, a golden medicine for all my ills, and can recommend it above all others for female complaints."

Cardui furnishes safe relief for backache, headache, periodical pains, irregular, painful or unhealthy cata-menial flow, and all ailments from which sick women suffer. A perfect tonic for delicate women. A pure vegetable medicine for girls and women who are subject to the complaints peculiar to their sex. Has benefited over a million who used to suffer as you do.
